CHRIS GALLAGHER ROCKS BILL CLINTON'S BBQ
THEN CAFE DU NORD ON DECEMBER 1

(SAN FRANCISCO, CA): Fresh off his gig for former boss, Bill Clinton, SF-based soul-singer-songwriter, Chris Gallagher returns from Little Rock, AR to headline Cafe du Nord on Wednesday, Dec 1st.

Leaving an impressive political and business career behind -- including a stint at the White House -- Chris Gallagher spent the past year carrying his alternately huge and intimately seductive voice, rare song crafting skills and fierce groove to top venues in SF, NY, and LA. On Nov 18th, Chris' career comes full circle when he and his band perform for Bill Clinton's Presidential Library Induction private after-party BBQ. After singing to 4000 of Bubba's closest friends, including Bono and Maya Angelou, Chris returns for his last Bay Area show of 2004 on Dec 1st.

Fresh out of college in the early 90's, Chris served as a legislative aide in the White House where he helped craft the domestic Peace Corps program, AmeriCorps. At night he fronted Funnybone, a hip-hop/acid jazz band that regularly packed DC clubs. Later, he was appointed the youngest-ever President of Social Venture Network - a national coalition of progressive CEOs and investors. Finally, Chris realized that music had always fed his soul so he stopped writing memos on a laptop and started writing songs on a keyboard.

His 2003 self-released debut, Will and Surrender, was a top 20 seller (among 50,000 others) on CDbaby.com and two of his tracks -- Wide Open and Down Low -- hit top-30 (competing w/ over 22,000 tracks) on the independent music authority, Garageband.com. Chris is currently laying the groundwork for his second full-length release in early 2005.
